

Our story is more than words on a page. It's our lives, our struggles, but it's really just as simple as friends coming together doing what they love. We as a band stand not only for the music, but for the brotherhood it brings. Music opens eyes and spreads the word. We'll stand for anyone who stands with us. A wise man once said "Live for what you have, die for the way you live, and dream as big as life itself." The question is, are you willing to? Check us out at myspace.com/asavd
